Attn: Agent in Charge of Investigation
Re Appointment of Independent Counsel

Re: Harold R. Tyler, Jr.

Front Door

Dear Sir or Madam:

I was disturbed to read that Mr. Harold R. Tyler, Jr. was being seriously considered for appointment as independent counsel.

_____ he lacks the personal and professional integrity required in one undertaking such a critical assignment.

b6

In April 1982, _____ Attorney General Robert Abrams' Antitrust Bureau, Lloyd Constantine, _____ an investigation of antitrust violations in the New York City concrete industry. _____ issued a number of subpoenas to the principal subjects of the investigation. The New York law firm of Golenbock and Barell ("G&B") and a number of others then initiated joint litigation challenging their subpoenas. _____ first set of papers, G&B engaged Mr. Tyler to represent it.

b7C

The subpoena litigation went through several stages, and the lengthy record in Golenbock and Barell v. Abrams, Index No. 27297/82 (Sup. Ct. N.Y. Co.), reflects the dishonest and unethical manner in which Mr. Tyler and his firm handled the opposition to enforcement of the G&B subpoena. By March 1984, the final round of papers had been submitted to the court. _____ successfully documented the falsity of various of the key representations being made to the court by the other side.

b7C

Mr. Tyler's response to this state of affairs was to go over Constantine's head and arrange a meeting _____ in the Department of Law, Scott Greathead. At a meeting held on March 23, 1984, Mr. Tyler presented Greathead with quite a vicious _____

b6

such eminent attorneys as he and his partner Michael Mukasey.

On March 26, Greathead informed Constantine _____ that he had reviewed Mr. Tyler's charges and saw nothing _____ that went beyond the bounds of proper zealous advocacy. _____ insisted that Greathead not stop there but also call Mr. Tyler and say the same thing to him.

I do not know what happened next, but, on April 2, I learned that, by March 28, Greathead had turned around completely and had sent Constantine a memo [redacted]

[redacted] for a remark made in a letter sent out months before with Constantine's prior approval. According to Constantine, he told Greathead that what was being demanded would devastate the investigation [redacted] before acceding to such a bizarre demand and that would deprive the Bureau of its best attorney. Greathead maintained his position.

When Constantine [redacted] on April 2, [redacted]
[redacted]
[redacted]

b6
b7C

On April 23, [redacted] in Golenbock. (The decision is reported at 1984-1 Trade Cas. (CCH) Paragraph 65,989.) [redacted] heard that G&B was changing lawyers and replacing Mr. Tyler with [redacted] of Skadden, Arps, Meagher, Slate & Flom. NY

NY Only then did Constantine [redacted] learn that Mr. Tyler's partner Robert Pennoyer, the head of their firm's corporate department, was Greathead's father-in-law. This came out because Mr. Tyler's public explanation for his being replaced as G&B's counsel was that he was voluntarily withdrawing because of the conflict of interest raised by the relationship between Greathead and Pennoyer.

The Skadden firm's approach was, basically, to disavow virtually every position that had been taken by Mr. Tyler's firm. They did not appeal the decision, and they soon produced to us boxes of documents that Mr. Tyler had been maintaining were "privileged." These documents directly confirmed the accuracy of the positions [redacted] taken in the litigation.

[redacted] when it became obvious that the Attorney General was going to persist in refusing even to speak to Constantine about undoing the effects of Greathead's intervention in the investigation. I understand that, after that time, additional documents that Mr. Tyler had claimed were "privileged" were voluntarily produced. A relative handful of documents were ultimately the subject of further litigation, and the court held that only some of that number were actually privileged.

[redacted]
If I can be of any assistance to the Bureau's inquiries, I can be reached there at [redacted] My home number is [redacted]

RE:: MIAMI TELETYPE TO FBIHQ, DECEMBER 18, 1986.

ON DECEMBER 18, 1986, (X) [REDACTED] (X),

WAS INTERVIEWED BY THE FBI, MIAMI DIVISION. THE FOLLOWING IS A SUMMARY OF INFORMATION PROVIDED.

(1) IN FEBRUARY, 1985, [REDACTED] PERSONALLY MET WITH
AND BRIEFED VICE PRESIDENT BUSH (JANUARY 21, 1985), OLIVER NORTH, AMBASSADOR TO EL SALVADOR, GENERAL GORMAN AND UNIDENTIFIED U.S.
AND EL SALVADORIAN MILITARY COMMANDERS ON HIS PLANS TO CREATE AND INSTRUCT THE EL SALVADOR MILITARY ON "LOW LEVEL SEARCH AND DESTROY MISSIONS UTILIZING HUGHES 500 HELICOPTERS AND TWO GUN SHIPS". THIS WAS A PRIVATE ENTERPRISE INITIATED BY [REDACTED] AND OPERATED ON BEHALF OF THE EL SALVADOR GOVERNMENT. IT WAS OPERATED OUT OF ILOPANGO, EL SALVADOR. THIS PLAN WAS IMPLEMENTED IN MARCH, 1985 AND TOTALLY FINANCED BY PRIVATE FUNDS AND EL SALVADOR. THE FIRST "SEARCH AND DESTROY OPERATION" WAS APRIL 18, 1985 AND WAS DEEMED A HUGE SUCCESS. DURING THE COURSE OF THIS OPERATION, [REDACTED] WOULD CONTACT ~~DOM GREGG~~ ^{NO LOC}, VICE PRESIDENT BUSH'S NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR, RELAYING EL SALVADOR'S REQUEST FOR ADDITIONAL U.S. HELICOPTERS. ON MAY 1, 1986, [REDACTED] BRIEFED VICE PRESIDENT BUSH ON THE SUCCESS OF THE EL SALVADOR OPERATION.

(2) IN LATE 1985, OLIVER NORTH WROTE A LETTER TO [REDACTED] [REDACTED] AND REQUESTED HE CREATE A MAINTANCE FACILITY IN ILOPANGO, EL SALVADOR, TO REPAIR AND REFUEL AIRCRAFT UTILIZED TO SUPPORT THE CONTRAS. NORTH ADVISED HIM NOT TO BRIEF ANYONE - INCLUDING THE AMBASSADOR TO EL SALVADOR. NORTH ADVISED, "MR. ~~GREEN~~" ^{FL} WOULD COME DOWN TO HELP [REDACTED] SET UP THE FACILITY. GREEN IS RAFAEL QUINTERO. [REDACTED] DID SET UP THE FACILITY.

b6

IN LATE 1985, NORTH ASKED [REDACTED] TO ARRANGE FOR THE LANDING OF A 707. THIS AIRCRAFT WAS A SOUTHERN AIR 707 CARRYING

LETHAL MILITARY EQUIPMENT.

FOLLOWING THIS LANDING, NORTH REQUESTED QUINTERO TO ARRANGE FOR THE LANDING OF A C130 (CARRYING PORTABLE BUILDINGS) AND A SOUTHERN AIR LL00 (CARRYING NON LETHAL AID). (NOTE: [REDACTED]) ADVISED THE NON LETHAL SUPPLIES WERE FLOWN FROM EL SALVADOR TO HONDURAS USING HONDURAS DC-6'S.

IN EARLY 1986, AIRCRAFT WOULD ARRIVE CARRYING SPARE PARTS. ARRIVING AIRCRAFT WERE TWO C123'S (CARRYING SPARE PARTS FOR THE SOUTHERN FRONT); TWO ARIBOU (FLYING SUPPLIES EVERY MONDAY); AND 707'S OWNED BY SOUTHERN AIR SERVICES, MIAMI, FLORIDA. (A TOTAL OF 4 SHIPMENTS WERE MADE BY SOUTHERN AIR). MAINTENANCE WAS PROVIDED BY SOUTHERN AIR MECHANICS. } FL

THE "MAINTENANCE FACILITY" WAS OPERATED UNTIL THE CRASH OF THE C12'S IN NICARAGUA ON OCTOBER 5, 1986.

(3) INDIVIDUALS WITH KNOWDGE OF THE CONTRA SUPPLY FACILITY:

1. OLIVER NORTH (REQUESTED [REDACTED] SET UP THE FACILITY; HEADED THE OPERATION).

2. SECOND (PERSONALLY IN CONTACT WITH NORTH; WS IN OVERALL CHARGE OF THE FACILITY AND OBTAINING AIRCRAFT).

b6

3. TOM KLINE [REDACTED] WAS TOLD KLINE KNEW OF OPERATION).

4. RAFAEL AQUINTERO (OVERSAW DAY TO DAY OPERATION OF FACILITY).

5. [REDACTED]

6. [REDACTED] (IN CHARGE OF THE MONEY AND FINANCING OF SUPPLY OPERATION). [REDACTED] WAS DRAFTED BY SECOND BUT REPORTED.

DIRECTLY TO NORTH.

7. [REDACTED] (CORPORATE AIR SERVICES).

8. SOUTHERN AIR SERVICES MECHANICS.

9. [REDACTED]

10. CAPTAIN [REDACTED] AT ILOPANGO, EL SALVADOR.

(NOTE: [REDACTED] MET VICE PRESIDENT BUSH, JANUARY 21, 1985,
MAY 1, 1986 AND MAY 10, 1986, BUT NEVER BRIEFED HIM NOR DISCUSSED
THE CONTRA SUPPLY FACILITY).

(4) FUNDING.

[REDACTED] HAS NO DIRECT KNOWLEDGE OF THE FUNDING OF THE CONTRA SUPPLY FACILITY BEYOND THE FOLLOWING.

A) [REDACTED] WAS IN CHARGE OF DAY-TO-DAY FINANCING OF THE OPERATION.

B) [REDACTED] HAS KNOWLEDGE OF A SIGNED END USER CERTIFICATE

b6
b7c

b6

REQUESTED BY LAKE RESOURCE, P.O. BOX , PANAMA, AS THE SELLOR.

SECORD ADVISED [REDACTED] LAKE RESOURCES WAS A PANAMA BASED COMPANY OPERATED BY THE CHILE GOVERNMENT. THE ITEMS LISTED ON THE END USER CERTIFICATE WERE NEVER DELIVERED AND AFTER REPEATED REQUESTED TO [REDACTED] QUINTERO AND SECORD, THE END USER CERTIFICATE WAS NEVER RETURNED.

b6

C) BASED UPON HIS PAST EXPERIENCE AND PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS, [REDACTED] ADVISED THERE IS NO WAY IMAGINABLE THAT THE CONTRAS RECEIVED $30 MILLION IN SUPPLIES THROUGH THE FACILITY IN ILOPANGO.

D) ON MAY 1, 1986, [REDACTED] COMPLAINED TO OLIVER NORTH, IN PERSON, THAT HE SENSED THAT THERE WERE IRREGULARITIES IN THE FINANCING OF THE CONTRA SUPPLY OPERATIN AND THAT FORME CIA PERSONNEL ASSOCIATED WITH THE FORMER [REDACTED] WERE SKIMMING MONEY THROUGH INFIATED PRIVES AND FALSIFIED END-USER CERTIFICATES. HE ADVISED DON GREGG OF THESE SAME COMPLINTS IN AUGUST, 1986.

[REDACTED] WAS A PRIVATE INDIVIDUAL WHO HAD SUBSTANTIAL CONTRAS WITHIN THE EL SALVADOR MILITARY. HE WAS CONTACTED BY OLIVER NORTH, APPEALING TO HIS U.S. LOYALTY, REQUESTED TO ASSIST

PAGE SIX MM 58A-753 UNCLAS

THE UNITED STATES BY CREATING A MAINTENANCE FACILITY FOR CONTRA SUPPLY FLIGHTS. THE OPERATIONS MADE BY [REDACTED] WERE FROM HIS PERSONAL RECOLLECTIONS AND FIRST HAND EXPERIENCE. HE WAS NOT "IN" WITH THE LEADERSHIP OF THIS OPERATION.

[REDACTED] RELATED THAT OLIVER NORTH WAS THE U.S. OFFICIAL WITH KNOWLEDGE AND AUTHORITY OVER THIS OPERATION. ~~SECORD~~ ^{DC} AND HIS ASSOCIATES EXERTED AUTHORITY OVER THE LOGISTICS. IT WAS APPARENT THAT SECORD HAD ORGANIZED THE ~~CONTRA SUPPLY OPERATION~~ AS A PRIVATE ENTERPRISE. DURING MID TO LATE 1986, SECORD WAS ACTIVELY ATTEMPTING TO SELL THE ENTIRE OPERATION TO CIA. HE HOPED CIA WOULD USE PORTION OF THE $100 MILLION, RECENTLY AUTHORIZED BY CONGRESS TO PURCHASE THE ENTIRE OPERATION. THIS "PRIVATE ENTERPRISE" WAS CONTRACTED FOR BY OLIVER NORTH.

[REDACTED] ADVISED HE NEVER DISCUSSED THE CONTRA SUPPLY OPERATION WITH THE VICE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE UNTIL AUGUST, 1986, WHICH TIME HE DISCUSSED HIS COMPLAINTS WITH DON GREGG. [REDACTED] FURTHER.

ADVISED HE NEVER DISCUSSED THE CONTRA SUPPLY OPERATION WITH ~~MCFARLANE OR POINDEXTER~~. ^{DC}

North said to have been treated for distress

By JIM MCGEE
Herald Staff Writer

JAP

WASHINGTON — Marine Lt. Col. Oliver North was hospitalized for three weeks in 1974 following an episode of emotional distress after his return from a brief command in Okinawa, associates of North told The Miami Herald.

White House officials say they are unaware of any such incident in North's background. As a nominee in 1981 for a sensitive post on the National Security Council (NSC), North would have been required to disclose such an incident as part of his medical history. NSC officials refused to say whether the hospitalization was disclosed.

Sources familiar with the granting of security clearances say such information about North's past raises questions about the thoroughness of the FBI background investigation as well as the decision to approve his nomination to the NSC.

North and his attorney were sent telegrams Friday inquiring about the hospitalization. Neither responded to those inquiries. Saturday morning North told The Herald: "I'm not going to confirm. I'm not going to deny. I'm not going to comment."

In a telephone interview, North's attorney Brendan Sullivan said, "I cannot talk to you about it." In interviews during the past two weeks, associates of North said it is "common knowledge" within the Marine Corps that North suffered an undisclosed illness of an emotional nature that required three weeks of treatment at the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

"It was general knowledge among his contemporaries, particularly those who had gone to the [Naval] Academy, that Oliver was reported to have suffered from an emotional or nervous incident or period of depression that had required hospitalization," one senior Marine official told The Herald.

Several of North's fellow officers said they were surprised in 1981 that the incident did not prevent North from winning the sensitive position on the NSC. An NSC spokesperson said they could not say whether the hospitalization would have precluded his serving on the NSC.

North was fired Nov. 25 as deputy director of the NSC after disclosures that payments by Iran for U.S.-supplied weapons went to assist U.S.-backed Nicaraguan rebels.

In late 1974, Marine Corps records show North was based in Okinawa as commander of Company A, First Battalion, Fourth Marine Division. He held that position for 29 days, from Nov. 11 to Dec. 9, 1974. He was replaced Dec. 10 by Capt. Ernest Brown.

Upon his return, North was assigned to a post in Washington.

A reliable official source told The Herald the unit diary for North's company contains an entry that indicates North was reported sick for a period of three weeks immediately after his arrival in the states. It shows he was sick from Dec. 16, 1974, to Jan. 7, 1975, with the diagnosis listed as "unknown," the source said.

Unit diaries are often released by the Marine Corps under the Freedom of Information Act. However, Marine Corps lawyer Capt. Mike Rogers said information of a medical nature is generally kept secret.

Former Marine Capt. Brown, now a civilian, said in an interview that he was told soon after North's departure from Okinawa that North suffered emotional problems upon returning to Washington.

"This was general knowledge," Brown said.

A third senior Marine official who was an associate of North in the 1970s, told The Herald that North spoke with an acquaintance in December 1974 and described an emotional incident that led to his hospitalization.

A fourth senior Marine official, who was also close to North during the mid-1970s, confirmed in an interview that he was personally aware of North's hospitalization in December 1974. This source said he was advised within a matter of days after the hospitalization that it stemmed from an episode of "emotional distress."

"To the best of my recollection, it was soon after [North was hospitalized]," the source said. Officials at the NSC and the FBI say the background investigation for NSC nominees, while extensive, does not usually involve a review of medical records.

"Normally, no, that doesn't come into the background investigation," said FBI Special Agent Susan Schnitzer. "... Unless on their application they stated they have a problem."

NSC officials, citing the Privacy Act, said they would not disclose the contents of North's background form. An NSC spokesperson said investigators would not normally examine a nominee's medical record unless the application disclosed previous treatment for a nervous disorder.

"They do ask a question if your family has a history of mental illness or if you've ever had a problem of this nature," said Jackie Murphy.

The hospitalization is a troubling incident in North's otherwise impressive military career. It has long been the subject of discussion within the close-knit circle of military acquaintances who have known North since his days at the Naval Academy.

"It was common knowledge," said one senior Marine official.

Currently every Marine with a top secret clearance or higher completes, under penalty of perjury, form DD-398, a Statement of Personal History. The form asks for an answer of yes or no to the question, "If hospitalized or treated by a doctor for nervous disorders."

An instruction booklet for preparing the forms explains: "Often a nominee will indicate 'no' when in fact he has been treated for a nervous disorder or a nervous breakdown in the past."

"The rationale used is that he didn't consider it a 'history,' but rather a single episode. This reasoning is incorrect. Any treatment or problem within the context of these questions must be listed with an explanation."

DETAILS: On 12/19/86 the following representatives of CID and RMD met to discuss background investigations in the captioned matter in order to make appropriate recommendations:

It was the consensus of the CID and RMD representatives that security investigation background investigations which will lead to the issuance of a security clearance on any independent counsel's staff members, as well as all defense attorneys and their staff members, should be conducted by RMD under the 259A Classification (Classified Information Procedures Act). Similar investigations requested by congressional committees or the White House (i. e. the "Tower Commission") should be handled by CID. Investigations of independent counsel candidates emanating from the Special Tribunal will be directed by CID.

On 12/22/86, additional informal discussions were held by the following persons: Jerry Rubino, Supra; [Signature]

Memorandum from F. I. Clarke to Mr. Revell
RE: FRONT DOOR

Mr. Rubino noted that at least two congressional committees will be involved in this matter and their personnel will require background investigations that will lead to the issuance of security clearances. The requests will come from the Hill to the Office of Legislative Affairs (OLA), DOJ, and thereafter to Mr. Rubino's office. Mr. Rubino will forward the written requests to the FBI authorizing the investigation. These requests will contain the investigative requirements for conducting the security clearance investigations in accordance with Executive Order 12356 and other applicable regulations. No investigation will be instituted until a completed SF-86 and supplement is received by Mr. Rubino. These investigations will be handled like those which are conducted on Departmental Attorneys. The scope will be fifteen years and the Department will obtain release forms and conduct a check of tax records. The Department will also receive requests for investigations regarding the independent counsel's staff, as well as those involving defense attorneys and their staff members. Requests for background investigations involving the "Tower Commission", however, will come from the White House rather than DOJ. The Special Tribunal will continue to make their requests to the Director of the FBI.

Representatives of the FBI and DOJ will continue to meet regarding these matters to insure these investigations are conducted as promptly as possible with the existing availability of FBI resources.

Canadian firm reported behind Iran arms deal

WASHINGTON (CP) male A New York businessman said Thursday Saudi Arabian financier Adnan Khashoggi put up shares of a Canadian mining company as collateral for a $10-million loan to help finance part of the U.S. arms sales to Iran that have plunged the Reagan administration into turmoil. male

This was denied immediately in Toronto by a spokesman for the company named by New Yorker Roy Furmark. The spokesman said Adnan Khashoggi does not own any part of the company American Barrick Resources Corp. — and could not have used its shares for collateral.

Furmark, a Khashoggi associate, told reporters about the use of shares from American Barrick after testifying at a closed congressional hearing and briefing Canadian Ambassador Allard Gotlieb and two RCMP officers about what he knows.

He said it is Khashoggi's funds — not funds of two Canadians who have been named in the affair — that are at stake in a current controversy over a possible diversion of funds from the arms sales to Nicaraguan rebels and claims that investors were not fully repaid.

"It's Mr. Khashoggi's money, it's his collateral and he's the one who's going to lose it," Furmark told reporters at a news conference in the foyer of the Canadian

Embassy. CAN

In Toronto, William Birchall, a director of American Barrick, said, "Mr. Furmark is not correct."

He said the family of Essam Khashoggi, not his brother Adnan, holds an interest in American Barrick through a private Toronto holding company, Horsham Securities Ltd. male

The family owns 40 per cent of Horsham which in turn has a 22-per-cent interest in American Barrick, also Toronto-based.

Birchall added that Horsham is controlled by Toronto businessman Peter Munk, who would have to give his approval for the Khashoggis to use their interest in the company as collateral.

The Canadian government assigned the RCMP to investigate suspected Canadian connections in the arms affair after news reports that Furmark had told the director of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency and the U.S. Senate intelligence committee about involvement by two Canadians in financing the formerly secret arms deals. CAN External Affairs Minister Joe Clark has said there is no evidence any Canadian laws were broken.

The two Canadians, accountant Donald Fraser and real estate dealer Ernest Miller, were reported to have threatened to expose the arms transactions through legal action because they had invested and lost $10 million in it.

After the briefing at the Canadian Embassy Thursday, Furmark described Fraser and Miller, both of Toronto, as advisers and business associates of Adnan Khashoggi who "facilitated" his loan from a Cayman Islands bank that he could not identify.

"The bank was putting a lot of pressure, I guess, on Mr. Khashoggi to repay the loan and so Mr. Khashoggi said if he's going to, you know, be sued for the money, he would then have to include the Americans," Furmark said.

"He (Adnan Khashoggi) borrowed $10 million from a Cayman Island bank and Miller and Fraser facilitated that," Furmark told reporters, adding that he spoke to Khashoggi this week to clarify details.

During the embassy news conference, Furmark was asked if he was trying to get money back for investors and if he thought the United States would repay owed money.

"I think that when the U.S. government finds out what happened, maybe Mr. Khashoggi will be repaid whatever is owed him," Furmark replied.

"But all the facts have got to come out."

Adnan Khashoggi has described himself as the man who provided a financial bridge, totalling $31 million, between the United States and Iran for arms shipments this year and last. male

CIA Director William Casey has said he first started asking questions about possible diversion of funds to Central America after Furmark told him Oct. 7 about that suspicion. male

RCMP Commissioner Robert Simmonds has told a Commons committee the RCMP is trying to determine whether Canadian mid-level men linked to the arms deal violated the Criminal Code, the Customs Act, export-import regulations or Canada's banking laws.

Arms deal tied to Canadians' attempt to recoup business loan

By Greg Weston

Citizen staff writer

TORONTO — Saudi Arabian arms dealer Adnan Khashoggi persuaded two Canadians they could make huge profits by financing an arms shipment to Iran and offered them a part in the deal as a way of paying them back a loan of $35 million.

The two Canadians, Walter (Ernie) Miller and Donald Fraser had loaned Khashoggi the $35 million as part of another deal, says a man who describes himself as Khashoggi's former Canadian representative.

Timothy Khan said when Miller and Fraser pressed Khashoggi for repayment of their $35 million he told them they'd get their money back faster if they participated in this new deal.

He said Khashoggi promised them he would triple their investment if they came up with an additional $40 million to finance an arms sale to Iran.

Khan said his conclusions are based on his interpretation of events and facts that have become public in the past two weeks and on his understanding of the principals, all of whom he has done business and socialized with.

The 30-year-old Toronto man, who until a few months ago boasted of his close association with Khashoggi, now says he has severed most ties with the controversial arms dealer and denies he has any connection with the Iranian transaction that is eroding confidence in U.S. President Ronald Reagan and his top officials.

Khan said Fraser and Miller apparently put up $20 million U.S. to finance the arms transaction with promises of making three times that amount in return — a clear profit of about $40 million.

Instead, the deal went sour and they got back only $10 million of their original investment.

New York businessman Roy Furmark, who tipped off CIA director William Casey about the arms sales to Iran, said Thursday in Washington that Fraser and Miller had merely "facilitated" a $10-million loan to Khashoggi through an unnamed Cayman Islands bank.

But Khan, asked if the bank involved is the Euro Bank controlled by Fraser, replied: "I

Officials of the company named by Furmark, American Barrick Resources of Toronto, claim that Khashoggi doesn't own any part of the firm and therefore couldn't use its shares for anything.

But Khan says Khashoggi's brother Essam is a major shareholder in Barrick and "if Adnan went to his brother and said I want to do this, Essam would not say no."

He said the principals in American Barrick, Peter Munk and David Gilmour, have a longstanding relationship with Adnan Khashoggi in some joint ventures.

"When I entered the (Adnan Khashoggi) organization four years ago, I was informed they were also doing business with several other Canadians. And Munk and Gilmour and Barrick were the names mentioned."

The Iranian arms deal that is rocking the Reagan administration apparently wasn't the only attempt made by Fraser and Miller to get back their $35-million investment in Khashoggi's Triad America Corp.

Khan said it was "Fraser's idea" to take over Skyhigh Resources, formerly a penny-stock company in Vancouver, and to have it buy Triad's main asset, the $340-million Edgington Oil Co.

The announcement of the bid for Edgington pushed Skyhigh's stock prices from 10 cents to over $20 in a matter of weeks earlier this year.

But a U.S. federal judge slapped an order on Triad ago, temporarily prohibiting the sale of Edgington Oil to think you could assume that, yes."

Furmark also denied reports that the two Canadians, in an effort to get their money back, had threatened to expose the U.S. sale of arms to Iran and diversion of profits to American-backed rebels in Nicaragua.

That threat came from Khashoggi, Furmark told reporters in Washington.

Khan also added some credibility to claims by Furmark that Khashoggi had put up $25 million in stock as collateral on the $10-million "loan" from Fraser's bank.

was dispatched by Iranian President Ali Khomeini, the newspaper said. Bahremani, who has his own import company and travels under an assumed name, collected the $6-million U.S. commission on the arms sale between July 1985 and September 1986, the Observer said.

The Observer newspaper, citing "Iranian sources" in London, said Mehdi Bahremani "left his home in Brussels on Nov. 15, closely pursued by an official Iranian investigator."

Bahremani, 25, "fled to Toronto" where he was followed by the investigator who Canadian External Affairs spokesman Marie-Laure de Chantal said the newspaper report was the first the Canadian government had heard of Bahremani's possible flight, adding immigration officials in Toronto were unable to say if Bahremani had recently entered Canada.

"We have no hint whether it is true or not," de Chantal said in an interview. "Of course, if he is travelling under an assumed name, that complicates matters."

She said External Affairs and Immigration officials would likely investigate the report further today.

The newspaper said Bahremani was a close associate in Belgium of Manucher Ghorbanifar, identified by the Observer as head of Iran's intelligence network in Europe.

Ghorbanifar, also with Saudi arms dealer Adnan Khashoggi, played a leading role in the deal to buy hundreds of millions of dollars of American weaponry, the newspaper said.

Two Toronto businessmen have been reported to have acted as middlemen for at least one shipment of the arms sent to Iran by the United States.

Profits from the arms deal were diverted to aid Nicaragua's Contra rebels.

The Observer said Bahremani left Europe because "he was concerned that his involvement in the deal could seriously embarrass his father, who is already under attack in Iran for dealing with the United States and Israel.

Iran's Speaker Rafsanjani reportedly gave U.S. President Ronald Reagan a signal in Tokyo in July 1985 that Reagan could help release hostages by releasing embargoed U.S. weapons.

Reagan's administration has been assailed by critics in recent weeks for the arms-for-hostages deal and the diversion of profits from the arms sales to the Contras.

The RCMP is investigating the Canadian link in the arms sales deal.

Canada has no record Iranian entered country

LONDON (CP) — Canada has no records to indicate that the son of Iranian parliamentary speaker Hashemi Rafsanjani ever entered this country, an Immigration Department spokesman said Monday.

However, Len Westerberg said Mehdi Bahremani, linked in British news reports to profits from the sale of U.S. weapons to Iran, could have entered Canada on a false passport.

"The individual has not come into Canada using his name and proper documentation," Westerberg said.

"If he's travelling under a pseudonym or other documentation then it's anybody's game. We can't confirm that he's not here and we can't confirm that he is here. All we know for certain is if he came in as himself with the proper documents we'd have a record and we don't."

A report in the London-based Observer said that Bahremani, eldest son of the speaker of the Iranian parliament, fled to Canada from Belgium in November with at least $6 million U.S. in commissions from the secret U.S.-Iran arms deals.

The Observer said Sunday that Bahremani fled to Toronto after learning Iran's President Ali Khamenei had ordered an investigation into the arms deal.

The weekly newspaper, quoting what it said were unidentified Iranian sources in London, said that Bahremani left his home in Brussels Nov. 15 after being tipped off that the investigator planned to question him about allegations he was involved in buying U.S. weapons for Iran.

Bahremani, 25, then went to Toronto, the newspaper said.

But the Iranian chargé d'affaires in Britain quickly denounced the report.

"It's a totally malicious report," Mohammad Mahdi Akhoond-Zadeh Basti told a news conference at his country's embassy in London.

"There is no truth to it, it is absolutely wrong."

"Objective journalism means to report something if there is some truth in it, when such things come out in your media naturally it creates a lot of ill-feeling," Akhoond-Zadeh said.

The newspaper described Bahremani as a close associate of Manoucher Ghorbanifar, identified as the head of Iran's intelligence network in Europe. Ghorbanifar is suspected of playing a key role in buying millions of dollars of U.S. arms, the paper said.

"If it is established that Rafsanjani lined his own and his family's pockets with money from the arms sale, his political position could become seriously threatened," the Observer said.

The weekly said Bahremani collected more than $6 million in commissions on arms sales between July 1985 and last September and was worried the dealings would embarrass his father, who is close to Khomeini.

Govt. won't say if Iranian's son entered Canada

The Canadian Press

The son of Iran's parliamentary speaker was granted a visa by the Canadian Embassy in Brussels in July 1985, but a spokesman for the Immigration Department won't say whether he actually entered the country.

Len Westerberg, senior information officer at the department, said Tuesday immigration files show a visa was issued to Bahram Mohsen Hashemi.

"I'm not saying whether or not that visa has been used or the guy has entered Canada or not. We have to respect that individual's right to privacy."

An official at the Canadian embassy in Brussels said Tuesday that Hashemi was granted a visa to study engineering at the University of Montreal. The visa remains valid until the end of May 1987.

Hashemi's name differs slightly from that cited in published reports that alleged the eldest son of the parliamentary speaker fled from Brussels to Canada with at least $6 million U.S. in commissions from secret U.S. arms sales to Iran.

There is no indication that Hashemi is the eldest son cited in the reports from the London Observer newspaper.

Westerberg said the department is attempting to get in touch with Hashemi to see if he is who he says he is.

Gerry Maffre, another Immigration Department spokesman, said there is still no official record of Hashemi entering Canada.

If Hashemi, 25, entered the country with the proper visa then the department would have a record of it, he said.

At the time of his application in Brussels, Hashemi volunteered the information that he was the son of Iran's parliamentary speaker Hashemi Rafsanjani, said an embassy spokesman who interviewed him.

However, the Immigration Department would not say what type of visa was issued to Hashemi because it is considered confidential.

"That kind of information is on the visa applicant's file but whether, in fact, we can give it out is premature for me to say at this point," Maffre said.

The Observer said the eldest son of the parliamentary speaker — identified as Mehdi Bahremani, 25 — fled to Toronto on Nov. 15. The newspaper said he left after being tipped off that an Iranian investigator had been dispatched from Tehran to question him about allegations he was involved in buying U.S. weapons in Iran.

UACB, San Francisco, is conducting no further investigation in this particular matter. This investigation was predicated upon information that ALBERT HAKIM'S Attorney's office had been burglarized and that a file was stolen which contained information linking HAKIM to nuclear weapons and arms sales to Iran. Investigation into the matter, however, resulted in a finding that the file, even if stolen in a burglary, contained no information whatsoever concerning arms sales to Iran involving ALBERT HAKIM. The file contained only information about a security system for a Republic of Korea nuclear power plant, which HAKIM'S company, SYSTEMS TECHNOLOGY CORPORATION (STC), was working on in 1983-84.

The 12/14/86 SCCSO report does indeed contain information that [] office, 20395 Pacifica, #103, Cupertino, California, was burglarized on 12/13/86. The report also contains information that [] said that he was ALBERT HAKIM'S Attorney and that his [] STC/ALBERT HAKIM file was stolen during the burglary. The report also says [] told the Deputies that "the file contained information concerning the sale of weapons and nuclear devices to Iran. These sales involved ALBERT HAKIM, the STC, and an involved party in Korea."

Deputy [] stands by his report that [] gave the above information about HAKIM to him on 12/13/86 at the crime scene. Whether or not [] gave that exact information or the Deputy misinterpreted the information is immaterial for the purposes of this investigation. When interviewed by the FBI on 12/14/86, [] said he was HAKIM'S attorney only in 1983 and early 1984. [] also stated the file contained no information concerning nuclear devices, weapons or arms sales to Iran. He stated the file contained only information concerning the sale and delivery of a security system for a Republic of Korea commercial nuclear power plant. [] denied that there was anything "sensitive" in this "inactive" file. [] also said he has met HAKIM on only a few occasions, all related to the above Korean project, and not since early 1984 when the project was terminated.

San Francisco will not speculate as to whether or not a burglary actually occurred . There is a possibility that the office space was not penetrated. Initially, the investigating deputies believed no entry had occurred. Only after the victim said a floppy disc box may have been taken, did the Officers conclude an entry had been made. This disc box turned up in a secretary's locked desk on the Monday after the Saturday night "burglary". There is a possibility the file has been "lost" in-house like the disc box.

In view of the fact the victim in the burglary, [redacted] was the sole source of the information linking ALBERT HAKIM to arms sales to Iran and the fact that later, [redacted] completely denied he had any information in the "stolen" file linking ALBERT HAKIM to arms sales to Iran, this area of investigation will not be pursued further UACB.

LIST BELOW ADDITIONAL PARTICIPATING LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS, ATTACHMENTS, ADDITIONAL VICTIMS, SUSPECTS, AND WITNESSES, DETAILS OF CRIME (INCLUDING IDENTIFYING MARKS), DESCRIPTION AND VALUES OF PROPERTY:

At approximately 2255 Hrs. on 12-13-86, Cupertino units were advised by county radio of an intrusion/burglary-type alarm at the law offices on 20395 Pacifica. Units arrived approximately five minutes later. At approx. 2300 Hrs., the responsible, Victim [REDACTED] arrived.

ENTRY:

Suspects gained entry to a common hallway shared by businesses at 20395 Pacifica by prying the latch on a glass door between the law offices and a State Farm insurance office. It should be noted that this door is not alarmed. Suspects then proceeded to a solid wood door leading to the law office's legal reference library. Pry was to the latch area, between the door knob and the strike plate. There is a large dent on the door just below the latch and striations on the strike plate on the door jamb.

SEARCH:

Search was quick and exact. There were no signs of ransacking; nothing was found to be out of place. Suspects proceeded to the word processor room, and took a small, black plastic box containing computer disks. These disks contained information on all of the law firm's active cases. Suspects then proceeded to the file cabinets located in the hallway, and took a file containing information on a Albert HAKIM and the "Stanford Technology Corporation".

b7CEXIT:

Susupects left via point of entry. It should be noted that the door to the common hallway has a spring-loaded latch, rather than a deadbolt-type lock. This latch locks automatically each time the door is closed; no key is required to lock the door.

VICTIM'S STATEMENTS:

Vict. [REDACTED] searched the office with the deputies and stated that the only item missing was the plastic box containing the computer disks. At this time, nothing else was found to be missing. [REDACTED] stated that the only person he had had problems with recently was one [REDACTED] (WMA approx [REDACTED] last known address: [REDACTED] Subject [REDACTED] was forcibly evicted from one of [REDACTED] and since that time, [REDACTED] has received death threats and other annoying phonecalls from subject [REDACTED] (for further information refer to [REDACTED] by Dep. REPORT/BEAT NO.

At approximately 0015 Hrs., Deputies cleared the office building with a burglary report. At approximately 0050 Hrs., county radio advised me that [] had discovered something else was missing. I returned to the law offices and made contact with []. He appeared to be visably distraught.

VICTIM'S STATEMENTS:

[] said that he continued to check the office after deputies had left. He said he wanted to make sure that some files containing sensitive information were secure. Upon checking his file cabinet, [] discovered that a file containing information on one Albert HAKIM and "Stanford Technology Corporation" was missing. [] stated that nobody besides himself and his paralegal knew where the file was kept.

[] was reluctant to tell me about the file, but finally relayed the following: The file contained information concerning the sale of weapons and nuclear devices to Iran. These sales involved Albert HAKIM, the "Stanford Technology Corporation", and an involved party in Korea. [] said that in the light of recent publicity concerning the sale of arms to Iran, he was very anxious about this incident receiving exposure to the news media.

[] further stated that whoever took the computer disks might've thought that the disks contained further information on the HAKIM file. Per the victim, the HAKIM file has been active since 1983, but there was no information on this particular file in the disks.

INVESTIGATION:

Nothing further was found to be missing or tampered with. [] was advised to leave the library door unrepaired (but locked) until our evidence techs could get a chance to look at it and possibly take a mold from the pry marks.

I contacted the alarm company and found that although the alarm had gone off at 2252 Hrs., the Sheriff's office was not notified until 2257 Hrs. Our first unit responded to the scene approximately five minutes later, which meant that there was a ten minute lapse from the time the alarm first sounded, until the arrival of our first unit.

I dusted the file cabinet door for latent prints, and obtained five cards. [] states the prints are probably all his or his paralegal's.

Nothing further at this time.

On December 14, 1986, [redacted] Attorney, 20395 Pacifica, #103, Cupertino, California. (408)255-4995, residing at [redacted] was interviewed concerning a burglary that occurred at his Cupertino office on December 13, 1986. [redacted] was advised of the identities of the FBI Special Agents, [redacted], and [redacted] voluntarily provided the following information:

[redacted] stated that he received a call from the alarm company which services his law office at 20395 Pacifica, #103, Cupertino, California, at approximately 11:00 PM, Saturday night, December 13, 1986. He was at home at the time and just about ready to go to bed for the night. [redacted] immediately proceeded to his office where marked Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office (SCCSO) units were already on the scene.

[redacted] advised he aided the officers in their entry into the building and opened the door to his offices. He proceeded to an alarm box, which showed him that the office's library door was the one which had set off the alarm. He and the officers proceeded to the library door which [redacted] said showed evidence of pry marks, and forced entry. While the officers investigated the entry, [redacted] looked around his office for evidence of theft. He said when he went into the office's computer area, he noticed that a plastic box containing some floppy discs was missing. He told the officers there was a possibility these discs, which carry information on the law office's current cases, might have been taken by the burglar. He said there was no way he could be sure if the disc box was stolen until Monday, December 16, 1986, when his staff returned. He said someone might have taken the disc box and put it away for the weekend. He suggested the interviewing agents should call him at his office on Monday to confirm whether the disc box had been stolen or not.

[redacted] said that after the officers completed their investigation and had left the scene, he discovered that one of the files was missing. He stated that after the officers left he had a chance to look around more thoroughly for evidence of theft. He looked in his file cabinet, which is located in a hallway outside his office. As he was looking through the files, which he keeps in alphabetical order, he noticed his file on STANFORD TECHNOLOGY CORPORATION (STC) was missing. He said he knew it was missing and not misplaced because he had been looking through that file on Friday, December 12, 1986. He said he remembered putting it back in the cabinet. He called the SCCSO concerning this file. Someone came out to take the report.

[] said the file concerned a proposal he had worked on with ALBERT HAKIM of STC concerning the sale and delivery of a security system for a Republic of Korea commercial nuclear power plant. [] said he first met HAKIM in 1983. HAKIM asked him to help on the project. [] believes HAKIM got his name through a former co-worker of his [] at ESL, Sunnyvale, California, who was now an associate of HAKIM'S at STC. [] has been in the practice of law since 1976. Prior to that he was in an Air Force Intelligence Unit, 1958 - 1962, and worked for ESL after that. From this work experience he developed an expertise in image processing. Because of this expertise it was not unusual for HAKIM to ask for his help. [] stated early on in the project he came to the conclusion that HAKIM'S proposal was unworkable for technical reasons. HAKIM, whom [] characterized as someone who believed that money can cure anything, pushed on with the project anyway. By early 1984, however, the project floundered and [] file on STC became "inactive". [] nonetheless, continued to send newspaper articles on HAKIM and STC to that file.

[] said that during the time he was working on the project he had only a few personal contacts with HAKIM. He said he has had no contacts with HAKIM since early 1984.

[] stated he had reason to know what was contained in the STC file because he had reviewed it the day before. He said he decided to review it because he had been reading in the newspapers about HAKIM and the Iran/Contra money problems. He said he reviewed it to see if there was anything in there that would be a problem or an embarrassment if the file were subpoenaed by some Committee. He said he found nothing sensitive in the file. [] said there was nothing at all in the file which could cause a problem for himself or ALBERT HAKIM.

[] was then specifically asked if he had told the SCCSO officers that "the file contained information concerning the sale of weapons and nuclear devices to Iran and that these sales involved ALBERT HAKIM". [] said, "That information was incorrect. It was not true". [] stated the file contained correspondence, notes, contracts, newspaper clippings and an STC report entitled []

b7c

[] said all these documents referred to the Korean project. He stated categorically that the file at no time contained any information about nuclear devices, nuclear weapons, or arms sales to Iran involving ALBERT HAKIM. The entire file referred to the security system for the Korean nuclear power plant.

[] advised that while he had been reviewing the file on Friday, he pulled out the STC report from the file and put it in his desk. He pulled out the report (a copy of which is attached to this document) from his desk and provided it to the interviewing agents. [] said the burglar only got the contracts, notes, correspondence and newspaper articles which remained in the file jacket and had been returned to the cabinet.

[] believed the taking of the STC file was not a random theft, but that the burglar took the specific file he was looking for. However, [] stated he knew of no one who would have had a motive for stealing the file since it was an inactive file and there was nothing very sensitive in it. Only [] his paralegal, whom he trusts, and possibly one or two other attorneys at the office, even knew of the file's existence.

[] said even the location of the file would have been a mystery to the burglar. On Friday, when he reviewed the file, [] had to refer to a notebook to see whether the file was alphabetized in the cabinet under "ALBERT HAKIM" or "STC". He said on Friday he found it under "STC" and returned the file there without the STC report.

[] reiterated that the file contained no information about nuclear devices, nuclear weapons or arms sales, past or present, by ALBERT HAKIM. He also stated he had no personal knowledge of such transactions.

SF 58
HIB&SLJ/jaa

[] advised the floppy discs which might have been stolen contained no information concerning HAKIM or STC.

[] advised the only two items which appeared to be missing were the box of floppy discs and the STC file.

Deputy [] continued, that "of all the burglaries I've ever seen - everything was real pat". [] also felt that it appeared somewhat unusual to him when each time they "tried to clear, [] kept insisting that something was wrong".

Regarding his own activities, HAKIM said that he was currently undertaking tasks in Europe for the Central Intelligence Agency and the State Department, which involved Iran, and has the appropriate paperwork from the Department of Justice, which states that he is working on behalf of the United States Government. HAKIM added that the CIA could furnish the FBI with the facts concerning his activities.

HAKIM said that during the time he has been assisting the United States Government, all of his activities have been very straightforward and lawful and that he is positive he has broken no laws of the United States. HAKIM reiterated the fact that when he became a citizen of the United States, he took an oath to uphold all the laws of the country and he has been proud to do so.

HAKIM stated that he has continued his involvement in this matter because he has both a personal and moral commitment to the others involved in Iran, and that they seem to be holding on. In fact, the Government of Iran is still holding under arrest, [redacted] at the request of the United States. HAKIM said this indicates the continued willingness of some individuals in the Iranian Government to associate themselves with the United States.

HAKIM stated that he has given a complete accounting of his activities in this matter to his attorney, [redacted]. HAKIM continued that he will be returning to the United States in a week or so and would advise when he would arrive.

HAKIM wanted to make it very clear that he was not avoiding anyone so as to not have to discuss this situation, but that as any of his associates can testify to, he spends most of his time out of the country. He also wanted it known that Attorney [redacted] was representing him in this matter and that [redacted] should be contacted at [redacted] as to his, HAKIM'S, availability and follow-up in this case.

HAKIM also requested that SA [redacted] contact [redacted] and advise him as to the above conversation, and that SA [redacted] also contact the appropriate individuals with the FBI, so that they are aware of his current position.

Instructions

Subject Priorities for FBI Arrest or Locates:

- A - Subject wanted for crimes of violence (i.e. murder, manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault) or convicted of such crimes in the past five years.
- B - Subjects wanted for crimes involving the loss or destruction of property valued in excess of $25,000 or convicted of such crimes in the past five years.
- C - All others

Claiming Non-Federal Arrests, Summonses, Recoveries or Convictions:

It is permissible to claim a local arrest, summons, recovery or conviction if the FBI significantly contributed to the accomplishment. A succinct narrative setting forth the basis for the claim must accompany this report. When claiming a local recovery, enter the word "LOCAL" to the right of the amount. Enter "LF" in the "In-Jail" block for all life sentences and "CP" for capital punishment sentences.

Reporting Convictions:

Convictions should not be reported until the sentence has been issued. There are two exceptions to this rule. The conviction information can be submitted by itself if:

- 1. The subject becomes a fugitive after conviction but prior to sentencing.
- 2. The subject dies after conviction but prior to sentencing.

An explanation is required in the Remarks section for either of the above exceptions.

Rule 20 Situations:

The field office that obtained the process (normally the office of origin) is the office that should claim the conviction, not the office where the subject enters the plea in cases involving Rule 20 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedures.

Investigative Assistance or Techniques (IA/Ts) Used:

- Since more than one IA/T could have contributed to the accomplishment, each IA/T used must be rated.
- The IA/T used must be rated each time an accomplishment is claimed. (For example - if informant information was the basis for a complaint, an arrest, a recovery and a conviction and if separate FD-515s are submitted for each of the aforementioned accomplishments, the "Informant Information" block must be rated on each FD-515 even if it was the same information that contributed to all the accomplishments.)

Re Bureau teletype 12/24/86.

Pursuant to Bureau instructions, the following is being set forth:

On 1/2/87, a telephone call was received at approximately 2:40 p.m., answered by SAC Secretary. The caller, [redacted] identified himself as being affiliated with ABC News, Chicago, and he indicated he wished to speak with the Milwaukee News Media Representative or the Agent in Charge. He was advised that the Agent in Charge was currently on the telephone and would return the call. He was asked specifically what the call was in reference to and he indicated that he had called "Washington" and they had indicated that Mr. [redacted] would be interviewed next week, probably somewhere in the Green Bay area, and he wanted to clarify this. When asked specifically if he had called the FBI office in Washington, Mr. [redacted] answered in the affirmative. When queried as to what day this interview would take place, Mr. [redacted] said he had been told it would be [redacted]. Mr. [redacted] left the telephone number of 800-621-4740.

SAC telephoned the above 800 number and this was answered ABC Network News. SAC advised Mr. [redacted] we could not comment and referred him to FBI Headquarters, Press Office.

Saudi got loan for La. fuel firm
after Iran dealBy BERNIE SHELLUM and MICHAEL G. WAGNER
Knight-Ridder Newspapers

WASHINGTON — Less than two weeks after Iran received a second shipment of U.S. weapons financed by Saudi tycoon Adnan Khashoggi, the Energy Department approved a $78.9 million loan guarantee for an alternative fuel company in New Iberia, La., controlled by Khashoggi.

The timing of the Energy Department approval on Sept. 27, 1985 — 13 days after the second shipment of TOW missiles was delivered to Iran — has attracted the attention of the House Committee on Energy and Commerce. Investigators for the committee chaired by Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., said they are looking into Khashoggi's involvement in the arms deals and the loan guarantee.

Since the Energy Department alternative fuels program was created during the energy crisis in the mid-1970s, the agency has approved only three such loan guarantees.

The firm that won the loan guarantee, Agrifuels Refining Corp. of New Iberia, had first applied for the assistance in 1980, before Khashoggi had a financial interest in the company. Energy Department officials say Khashoggi's brother, Essam, became a large stockholder in Agrifuels by 1983, and the firm became part of Adnan Khashoggi's U.S. holdings shortly after that — though the loan guarantee wasn't extended until 1985.

Energy Department officials and executives of Triad America, Khashoggi's parent company of Agrifuels, say there is no link between the arms sales and the loan guarantee. Khashoggi could not be reached for comment.

But a former Khashoggi associate, who asked not to be named, said this about the loan guarantee and the arms deals: "Are they related? I don't think they're all locked together like a chain; I think they are related because the same parties are involved in the various transactions."

In addition, Khashoggi creditors, who, according to court records are owed more than $160 million, say they fear that some of the cash from the loan to the oil company may be diverted to investors who reportedly helped Khashoggi finance the arms deal.

The records show that some of the same people involved in the arms sales have financial interests in Khashoggi's American companies linked to the Energy Department loan guarantee.

Donald Fraser and Walter Miller, who have been identified in a Justice Department memorandum as Canadian associates who helped finance the arms shipments, are now in control of Triad America, records show.

The loan guarantee was extended to Agrifuels Refining Corp., a subsidiary of Edgington Oil Co., of Long Beach, Calif. Agrifuels is building a plant to convert molasses into ethanol.

Mark Newgard, president of Edgington, said that if the Energy Department had not extended the loan guarantee, the alcohol fuel plant "never would have gotten off the ground."

Canadian securities authorities are focusing their investigation on a tiny money-losing gold mining company in Vancouver whose stock jumped in value more than 100-fold after Khashoggi became a shareholder and director in July.

The company, Sky High Resources Ltd., has been attempting to buy Edgington. Fraser is a major stockholder in Sky High.

On Nov. 13, the day Khashoggi became Sky High's chairman, the company also announced its plans to buy Edgington, which is owned by a Nevada holding company called Newedge which, in turn, is owned by Khashoggi's Triad Energy, part of Triad America. But some of Khashoggi's creditors went to court to protest the proposed purchase, and on Dec. 10 a federal judge in Salt Lake City issued an injunction blocking it pending further investigation.

Edgington, records show, apparently is the only profitable entity among Khashoggi's U.S. holdings.

Loan help for arms dealer probed

By The Associated Press

BATON ROUGE — The timing of a $79.6 million U.S. Department of Energy loan guarantee to a Louisiana ethanol company controlled by Saudi Arabian financier and arms dealer Adnan Khashoggi is being investigated by a U.S. Senate committee, it was reported Friday.

Khashoggi, reputed to be one of the world's richest men, is a central figure in the Iranian-contra scandal.

The Baton Rouge State-Times reported that the loan guarantee enabled the company, Agrifuels Refinery Corp. of New Iberia, to obtain financing to build its $105 million refinery.

The guarantee, one of only three approved, was awarded by the Department of Energy on Sept. 27, 1985, five years after Agrifuels applied and three days before the loan-guarantee program lapsed.

"The timing on this is curious, because it had to be done by Oct. 1. We were intrigued by the fact that the approval came so close to the deadline," said Michael Barrett, staff director of the subcommittee in charge of the investigation.

Barrett said the subcommittee would investigate the timing of the loan-guarantee approval and the second shipment of TOW missiles, financed by Khashoggi, to Iran two weeks later.

"I would not want to make a link between the loan guarantee and the Iran arms deal," Barrett said. "Our original reason for looking at this was to determine whether the Energy Department was trying to shovel money out at the last minute."

Agrifuels is a subsidiary of Edgington Oil Co., based in Long Beach, Calif., which in turn is owned by New Edge, a holding company controlled by Khashoggi and his brother Essam.

A Department of Energy spokesman said the Khashoggis direct New Edge through a series of corporations — Triad International Corp., Triad America Corp. and Triad Energy Inc. — all based in Salt Lake City.

Barrett said the committee also is concerned about reports of Triad America's legal and financial problems.

"Uncle Sugar has to pay when the loan defaults and, in our experience, a number of these type of loans have gone into default," Barrett said.

Agrifuels President Patrick Hamilton said work on the company's ethanol refinery is 80 percent complete. It is scheduled to begin operation by February.

Agrifuels has been approved for the state's gasohol program. The plant, which will employ 90 people, will be able to produce 100,000 gallons of gasohol a day with an annual capacity of 36 million gallons.

Approved producers of ethanol are eligible for a $1.40-a-gallon state subsidy for each gallon of ethanol sold for use in gasohol, a mixture of nine parts gasoline to one part ethanol.

Hamilton said Agrifuels borrowed about $80 million from seven financial institutions — Hibernia National Bank in New Orleans and six foreign banks. Edgington Oil put $25 million into the project, he said.

The gasohol program has created controversy since its inception. During the recent special legislative session, opponents of the program reduced the state allocation for the subsidy from $80 million to $52 million.

Critics of the loan guarantee also raised questions about the propriety of giving federal support to a foreign-owned business. No law prevents giving aid to an American business owned by a non-citizen, said Dan Beckman, deputy director of the Energy Department's alcohol fuels program.

Edgington Oil Co. owns 90 percent of Agrifuels' preferred stock and all of the company's voting stock, Hamilton said.

When Agrifuels applied for the loan guarantee, the company was owned by Oasis Oil Co. of Culver City, Calif. Agrifuels was sold to Edgington Oil Co. in 1983, Hamilton said.

Both Hamilton and Dailey Berard, a minority shareholder in Agrifuels and president of the New Iberia Chamber of Commerce, have denied repeatedly that the Khashoggis have any direct involvement with the company.

CIRCUIT APPOINTED LAWRENCE E. WALSH AS INDEPENDENT COUNSEL IN THE MATTER OF THE IRAN/CONTRA INVESTIGATION. AS A RESULT, THIS MATTER MUST BE RECLASSIFIED IMMEDIATELY FROM A BRIBERY CASE {58A} TO AN ETHICS IN GOVERNMENT ACT CASE {211}. FURTHER, THE TASK FORCE WORKING ON THIS MATTER HAS BEEN DETAILED TO MR. WALSH. THE AGENTS ON THE TASK FORCE, IN EFFECT, WORK FOR THE INDEPENDENT COUNSEL AND SHOULD NOT HAVE ANY DIRECT CONTACTS REGARDING THIS MATTER WITH FIELD OFFICES, LEGATS OR FBIHQ PERSONNEL. THE PUBLIC CORRUPTION UNIT {PCU}, WHITE-COLLAR CRIMES SECTION, WILL SERVE AS LIAISON BETWEEN THE TASK FORCE AND THE REST OF THE FBI. ALL REQUESTS FOR INVESTIGATION MADE BY THE TASK FORCE WILL BE ROUTED THROUGH THE PCU AND THEN SENT TO THE FIELD. ALL INVESTIGATIVE RESULTS WILL BE FORWARDED BY THE FIELD TO PCU WHERE THEY WILL BE REVIEWED, COPIED AND SENT ON TO THE TASK FORCE.

THEREFORE, AS STATED ABOVE AND IN THE RETEL, ALL INVESTIGATION BY THE FBI WILL BE COORDINATED BY THE PCU. RECEIVING OFFICES ARE DIRECTED NOT TO TAKE ANY INVESTIGATIVE ACTION UNLESS REQUESTED TO DO SO BY THE PCU. INVESTIGATIVE

RESULTS ARE TO BE PROVIDED TO THE PCU AND NOT DIRECTLY TO THE TASK FORCE. IN ORDER TO GUARANTEE SECURITY, ALL COMMUNICATIONS CONCERNING THIS MATTER SENT TO FBIHQ SHOULD BE PLACED IN AN ENVELOPE. THE ENVELOPE SHOULD BE ADDRESSED AS FOLLOWS: "FRONT DOOR, ATTENTION: PUBLIC CORRUPTION UNIT, WHITE-COLLAR CRIMES SECTION, ROOM 3849."

IN FORWARDING INVESTIGATIVE RESULTS TO PCU, RECEIVING OFFICES SHOULD INSURE THAT THE ENVELOPES DESCRIBED ABOVE CONTAIN ORIGINALS AND AT LEAST TWO COPIES OF THE DOCUMENTS BEING FORWARDED TO FBIHQ. THIS WOULD INCLUDE TRANSMITTAL DOCUMENTS {E.G.: AIRTELS} AND DOCUMENTS CONTAINING INVESTIGATIVE RESULTS {EG: FD-302'S AND LHMS}. COPYING IN THE FIELD WILL QUICKEN THE FLOW OF DOCUMENTS AT FBIHQ.

AN AIRTEL SENT TO ALL OFFICES AND LEGATS ON 12/22/86, CAPTIONED "CONTRAS; NICARAGUA; SALE OF ARMS TO IRAN", REQUESTED COMPREHENSIVE RECORDS REVIEWS. THAT REQUEST SHOULD BE CONSIDERED AS SEPARATE FROM THIS ETHICS IN GOVERNMENT ACT MATTER AND THE RESULTS SHOULD BE FORWARDED TO FBIHQ IN ACCORDANCE WITH INSTRUCTIONS CONTAINED IN THE AIRTEL.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

STATEMENT BY FELIX L. RODRIGUEZ EISA

Recently I voluntarily testified to members of the Federal Bureau of Investigations. My testimony covered all of the points which appear in this statement.

dc My reasons for releasing this statement and breaking a professional code of silence is to put in its proper perspective certain erroneous speculations by the media concerning Vice President George Bush and members of his staff. Essential points are as follow:

1. On January 22, 1985 and on May 1, 1986, I met with the Vice President in Washington, D.C. On May 20, 1986 we met briefly in Miami. At no point in any of these meetings were operations connected with the Nicaraguan Freedom Fighters discussed or mentioned in any way or form.

2. I moved to El Salvador on March 15, 1985, to try to implement the helicopter concept which I developed in Viet Nam in order to help the people of El Salvador eradicate communist insurgency in that country. The success of this concept is supported by official statistics showing considerable guerrilla reduction in that country. Members of the Administration, U.S. Armed Forces and some members of Congress have been briefed to that effect.

mc hic 3. In the later part of 1985, I became marginally involved with the group supporting the Nicaraguan Freedom Fighters. I neither had knowledge of their funding nor control over this group personnel. I never discussed this involvement with Mr. Gregg or any one in the Vice President's staff until August 8, 1986, as described in the chronology released by the Vice President's office. However, I must add that my main concern was with the qualifications and conduct of key personnel directing the supply network.

I have been deeply concerned with inaccurate and repeated allegations in the media which appear to doubt the truthfulness of what the Vice President and members of his staff have said. I hope that this statement, which covers all points fully discussed in my testimony, will end these erroneous and unfair speculations.

In closing, I wish to state that after losing my native country to communism, my actions have been always inspired by strong personal convictions of the need to promote democracy in this hemisphere considering it to be in the best interest of the United States.

Dear Mr. Clarke:

Front Deck

Pursuant to an investigation being conducted under the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, FBI assistance is being hereby requested to assist in my inquiry. You are requested to:

Dedicate additional space for agents assigned to investigate this matter.

A separate system of records will be established and maintained in space 1B053. It is anticipated that a high volume of documents will be generated and, of course, have been generated in the past that will require a formal recordkeeping system. Additionally, large numbers of documents have been gathered as evidence and must be properly maintained. It is therefore necessary to set up appropriate storage for these records and documents. This will necessitate additional space requirements. It is requested that you arrange for additional space in 1B053 by requesting Administrative Services Division at FBI Headquarters to construct a wall as shown on the enclosed diagram at column line JK. The office space in 1B035H is also requested. This will necessitate moving individuals and equipment assigned to the Special Inquiry (SPIN) Unit, Division 6, over behind that column line.

Additionally, it is noted that private contractors occupy space 1B140, which is directly off the Loading Dock and adjoins the space that I have hereby requested. I believe it would be appropriate for the Technical Services Division (TSD), FBI Headquarters, to examine on a periodic basis this common wall to insure our continued security.
